a great crusade

Do not be afraid. I am U-Mos, Sentinel of the Luminoth. Please listen, and hear of our world’s peril. Long ago, a cosmic object fell to our planet, Aether, exploding with great force. A rift was torn in time and space, and a strange power flowed over the world. Where once there was one Aether, there were now two. One of light . . . and one of shadow, each existing in its own dimension. It was the end of peace on Aether, for a new race was born that day on the dark world . . . one filled with hate and terrible power.

They are the Ing.

>the basics

No bounty hunter goes into battle without knowing what she's doing, and neither should you. The following pages contain so much good, new info that even Metroid Prime veterans should skim over them to see what has changed.

samus controls

1. L button
   - LOCKING ON
   - Press and hold L to lock on to any target that has a faded blue circle around it. While locked on, use the Control Stick to strafe left and right or move backward and forward.

2. Control stick
   - MOVEMENT
   - Use the Control Stick to move forward and backward, and up and down.

3. Control pad
   - VISOR SELECTION
   - The Control Pad selects your visors: Up for the Combat Visor, Right for the Dark Visor, Down for the Echo Visor, and Left for the Scan Visor.

4. Start button
   - PAUSING THE GAME
   - Press the Start Button to pause the game, check your logbook and inventory, or select game options.

5. Z button
   - MAP ACCESS
   - Press the Z Button to bring up a detailed map of your current location. Once in the map screen, you'll find more controls for handling the maps.

6. C stick
   - BEAM SELECTION
   - The C Stick selects your beam weapon: Up for the Power Beam, Right for the Dark Beam, Down for the Annihilator Beam and Left for the Light Beam.

7. R button
   - FREE LOOK
   - Press the R Button lightly and use the Control Stick to look around. Click the R Button to bring up the targeting reticle. Press L to lock your view.

8. A button
   - FIRING YOUR WEAPON
   - Press the A Button once to fire a regular shot, or mash it for rapid fire.

9. Y button
   - LAUNCHING MISSILES
   - Press the Y Button to shoot a missile. You can lock on to a target with the L Button or aim manually.

10. X button
     - FIRING CHARGE COMBOS
     - Charge your beam weapon with the A Button, then press Y while holding A to release a Charge Combo.

11. B button
     - FIRING SEEKER MISSILES
     - With the Seeker Missile Launcher, press and hold Y to enter lock-on mode, which lets you target up to five items simultaneously. Release Y to fire.

morph ball controls

1. L button
   - CAMERA VIEW
   - Press and hold L to center the camera behind you. It will take a second for the camera to move.

2. Control stick
   - MOVEMENT
   - Use the Control Stick to steer the Morph Ball around the environment.

3. B button
   - SPIDER BALL
   - Hold the R Button to cling to a Spider Ball track. See the Morph Ball Systems section on page 9 for more details.

4. A button
   - MORPH BALL BOMB
   - Press A to release a Morph Ball Bomb. See the Morph Ball Bomb Systems section on page 9 for more details.

5. Y button
   - POWER BOMB
   - Press Y to release a Power Bomb.

6. B button
   - BOOST BALL
   - Hold down the B Button to charge the Boost Ball, then release it for a quick speed burst. See the Morph Ball Systems section on page 9 for more details.
You begin the game with the Combat Visor and the Scan Visor, and you’ll acquire additional visors throughout your adventure. You can learn everything you need to know about yourself, your health and the surrounding environs from these handy little gadgets.

Combat Visor
- Energy Meter: The blue bar and the number show how much energy is in your Energy Tank. Tanks are indicated by blue squares.
- Local Map: This is a small map of your current location. Press Z to see a larger map.
- Missile Counter: The top number is your missile supply, and the bottom number is your missile capacity.
- Dark/Light Beam Ammo: The left meter and the right meter show how much ammo you have for the Light Beam and the Dark Beam, respectively.
- Targeting Reticle: If you can lock on to an object, you will see a circle around it. Press and hold L to lock on with the targeting reticle.
- Visor Selection: There are four visor slots. When you select a visor, its icon will move to the middle of the display.
- Radar: You are always the center dot on the radar. Enemies appear as orange dots.
- Beam Selection: There are four beam-weapon slots. When you select a beam weapon, its icon will move to the middle of the display.
- Threat Detector: If you are in danger from the environment (such as poison gas or radiation), an exclamation paint will appear.

Other Visors
- Scan Visor: The Scan Visor allows you to glean information about creatures and objects, as well as open doors, activate panels and more. Objects in red are of vital importance. Objects in blue are merely interesting. Green objects have already been scanned, and may appear in your logbook.
- Dark Visor: The Dark Visor has the same heads-up display as the Combat Visor, but it makes the world appear in a haze of static. Living creatures will be bright red when viewed through the Dark Visor. You can also use the visor to see cloaked enemies or items.
- Echo Visor: The Echo Visor works much like the sonar of a dolphin or a bat, sending out an audio signal that allows you to “see” sound. Some invisible items can be seen only with the Echo Visor. The visor is also used to open Echo Doors.

armor

Samus begins the game with the Varia Suit, and can gain two additional types of armor. All three suits will allow you to breathe in vacuums and underwater, and will protect you from falls of any distance.

dark suit

> the dark world

The atmosphere of the Dark World is incredibly dangerous—especially while you’re in the Varia Suit. Other armor will cut the damage or halt it altogether, but you must find it first.

The Dark Suit will decrease the amount of damage you take in the Dark World, but it won’t negate it completely. It also lets you see the world with a slight reddish tint.

ACQUIRE THE DARK SUIT: PG. 31

light suit

The Light Suit gives you full immunity to the harsh environment in the Dark World. It also lets you leap into poison water without a second thought, and pass through otherwise-damaging Instorms. While donning the Light Suit, you can use energy transports to teleport between temples and find secret rooms by riding on beams of light.

ACQUIRE THE LIGHT SUIT: PG. 88

weapon systems

It wouldn’t be a first-person shooter without a little bit of shooting. Don’t go off half-cocked—learn about your weapons before you pull them out and start firing away like a crazy person.

power beam

> THE SUPER MISSILE

The Power Beam is your default weapon, and it’s surprisingly handy—even in the very late stages of the game. It has the fastest rate of fire by far, launching energy as fast as you can hammer the A Button. Its Charge Beam Combos the powerful Super Missile, which can open green doors.

ACQUIRE THE SUPER MISSILE: PG. 36

> charged beams

Each beam weapon can be charged up, resulting in a different, more powerful shot. To charge a shot, simply press and hold the A Button. After a couple of seconds, it will be ready to go. It’s not necessary to charge the shot fully before you release it, but it will be stronger if you do. While charged, your beam will also draw in pickups.
dark beam

The Dark Beam works best against Light World enemies. The charged version is especially good at freezing foes in place, and will fire a spray of goo that follows the target for a short distance. If you run out of ammo, you can fire a shot by charging the beam.

light beam

The Light Beam works best against Dark World enemies. It fires a white-hot beam that can set some creatures on fire, and the charged version releases a spread that can strike multiple targets. If you run out of ammo, you can fire a shot by charging the beam.

annihilator beam

The Annihilator Beam uses both Light and Dark Ammo, and damages most enemies equally. It’s a fairly fast weapon, and its single shots will track enemies around the room. The charged shot is quite powerful, but somewhat slow and difficult to use.

---

DARKBURST

The Charge Beam Combo is the Darkburst, which creates a dimensional rift that sucks enemies inside. It will cause many foes to vanish completely, but it’s slow to fire and tough to aim. The move consumes five missiles and 30 units of Dark Ammo.

SUNBURST

The Charge Beam Combo is the Sunburst, which can hit multiple enemies and light both them and nearby objects on fire. The shot moves slowly—use it only on stationary or slow-moving targets. The move takes five missiles and 30 units of Light Ammo.

SONIC BOOM

The most powerful Charge Beam Combo in the game, the Sonic Boom projects a wave of sonic force that can strike multiple targets almost instantly. It requires five missiles and a whopping 30 units of both Light and Dark Ammo.

---

missile systems

Missiles are long-range weapons that pack a medium amount of force. By the end of the game you’ll own a ton of them, so you’ll want to master them.

missile launcher

Missiles are almost useless unless you lock on to the target and home in. Once you achieve lock, press the Y Button to let a missile fly. You can fire multiple missiles in a short span of time, but your accuracy will usually suffer—especially if you’re jumping around. You can also use missiles to open red doors and blast through some materials.

seeker missile launcher

The Seeker Missile can lock on to five separate targets, or you can unleash five missiles on a single hapless foe. Press and hold the Y Button to bring up a targeting reticule, then move over the units you wish to target and release Y when you’re ready. Seeker Missiles are the only way to open purple doors.

movement systems

Getting around in a Metroid game has never been easier! Pimp your ride with a gaggle of fantastic, futuristic locomotion options.

grapple beam

The Grapple Beam attaches to Samus’s left arm, and allows her to swing over chasms and pull herself up from the ground. The beam can attach only to certain devices, called grapple points, which look like small hooks and hang from the ceiling. To grapple, leap toward a grapple point and wait for the icon around it to turn from yellow to white. Then press and hold the L Button.

You will continue swinging from the grapple point as long as you hold the L Button. To change the direction of your swing, press the Control Stick. When you’re ready to dismount, simply release the L Button. If you let go while on the upswing, you’ll leap forward—a handy trick for reaching raised platform or another grapple point.

space jump boots

The Space Jump Boots allow you to perform a double jump. Press B once to jump, then press it again while in the air to trigger the second boost. You can steer in midair by pressing the Control Stick in the desired direction.

gravity boost

The Gravity Boost gives you free and unhindered movement while underwater. It also allows you to float upward for a period of time. To activate the float feature, double-jump, then press and hold B a third time.

screw attack

The Screw Attack is awesome. To use it, do a double jump, then continue pressing B. You will roll into a ball and perform a series of jumps—one per B Button tap, up to a total of five. While using the Screw Attack, you will damage any enemies that touch you, and you’ll gain the ability to Wall-Jump on certain surfaces. You have limited mobility while airborne.

morph ball systems

The Morph Ball isn’t just for reliving your old Marble Madness days. No, it’s great for entering tunnels and clinging to walls, and it’s the fastest way to get around Aether.

boost ball

The Boost Ball gives you an extra bit of speed. To use it, press and hold B for a moment to change the boost, then release B to zip forward. The boost helps you cross disappearing blocks, activate Spinners and simply get around better. If you’re concerned about time, the Boost Ball will be your best friend.

The Boost Ball lets you gain air on half-pipes. Any time you see a curved, smooth surface, you can probably boost up it. Start rolling up one side and charge your boost, then release it on the way down to gain speed. Charge your boost as you move up the other side, then release it again as you descend. You can gain a ton of air by using half-pipes—and often reach hidden treasures.

ACQUIRE THE BOOST BALL: PGG. 41

spider ball

The Spider Ball (activated by holding the R Button) gives you the ability to stick to Spider Ball Tracks, which will let you travel up walls and ceilings. While on a track, you can use the Boost Ball to leap off, or drop a bomb to propel yourself upward. If you need to reach a second track that’s below you, release R for a split second, then press it again when you’re near the lower track.

power bomb

Unlike their cool but kinda wimpy cousins, Power Bombs will wipe the floor with any enemy in range—in fact, they will vaporize most enemies instantly. Power Bombs can also open yellow doors and blast through the toughest rock and metal. They can even destroy Galactic Federation security gates.

ACQUIRE THE POWER BOMB: PGG. 68

bomb systems

Your only weapon in Morph Ball form is a bomb, but it’s one that can wreak plenty of havoc in the right situation. In addition to their destructive properties, bombs are extra-handy as a means to achieve upward mobility.

morphp ball bomb

While in Morph Ball form, press the A Button to drop a bomb. Bombs aren’t the most powerful weapons in the world, but they’re good enough to share off a Metroid, break open Talloric Alloy or destroy an enemy while in a tunnel. You’ll also use bombs to activate Bomb Slots throughout the game.

ACQUIRE THE MORPH BALL BOMB: PGG. 17

> bomb-jumping

If you drop a bomb and wait, it will go off and boost you up—this is called a Bomb Jump. To perform a double Bomb Jump, drop one bomb, then wait two seconds and double-tap A to drop two more. The first bomb will explode and detonate the second one in midair, which will set off the third and boost you even higher.
> using the guide

The bulk of this guide is a walk-through that shows how to get every upgrade, logbook entry and expansion. Not every expansion is called out in text, however—check the index in the back of the book for specific info on each one.

> THE HIGHLIGHTED PATH
Each map highlights a path from the last upgrade you collected to the next upgrade. The path will sometimes involve multiple areas and maps of both the Light and Dark Worlds.

> MAP CONNECTIONS
Arrows and lettered portal and elevator callouts mark map connections in the walk-through. Letter sequences start over in each new area and do not correspond to the letters used in the map section, beginning on page 104.

> NUMBERED TIPS
Numbers call out the major steps you should take along the path to the next upgrade. Look for the corresponding numbered tip in the walk-through.

> WORLD-SPECIFIC TIPS
Headings in the walk-through will let you know when you've entered a new area. Strategy tips for the Light World are on a white background. Strategy tips for the Dark World are on a black background.

> ROOM NAMES
Each strategy tip has a heading that tells you the name of the room in which the bulk of the tip takes place. Use the in-game map along with the maps in this guide to locate the room.

> STATIONS
Any Save Stations, Map Stations and Ammo Stations that are along the highlighted path are pinpointed. Search them out—especially the Save Stations.

> EXPANSIONS
Expansions that you can collect on the way to the upgrade are labeled on the highlighted path. Specific strategy for collecting the expansions can be found starting on page 112. (There's a number next to each expansion on the map. To find the strategy, turn to that number in the Expansions section.)

> LOGBOOK ENTRIES
Anything that you can scan into the logbook is listed in a box like this. The boxes appear the first time you enter a new room, and list the enemies, lore and research you can scan at that time. Many items—especially those you'll find in boss battles—can be scanned only once, so don't miss anything.

> BOSSES & POWER-UPS
Each section concludes with the payoff for trekking through the preceding hazards: Samus's new power-up. You may need to complete a task or defeat a boss to get the power-up—so get the whole lowdown.

>agon temple

A platoon of Galactic Federation Troopers has gone missing on Aether, and Samus Aran has been contracted to track them down. What began as a simple search-and-rescue op is about to become a lot more complicated... hope the pay is good.
The board is set, the pieces are in motion and it's time to go get the Missile Launcher. What's that you say? You already have a Missile Launcher? Heh . . . welcome to the world of Metroid, friend.
After receiving a contract to find and assist a downed Galactic Federation vessel, Samus Aran finds herself crash-landing on Aether—a world that is on the verge of collapse. Though Samus starts the chase well-armed and confident, a chance encounter will leave her at a significant disadvantage. Of course, that’s par for the course for the world’s best bounty hunter.

1. Landing site
   - Scanners

   When you exit your ship, you’ll be able to toy around with the Scan Visor. You can scan an object by looking at it and holding down the L Button. Scannable objects appear in three colors: blue, red, and green. Pay special attention to blue and red ones—they will often be logbook entries. Green items are those which have already been scanned.

   - A web of mystery

   The path out of the Landing Site is blocked by strange webbing. Target the large green circle in the middle of the web and hit it with the Power Beam—doing so will destroy it.

2. Hive chamber A
   - Crate smash

   Hive Chamber A holds a number of containers. The small blue ones can be destroyed with a couple of Power Beam shots, but the large red ones require either a charged shot or an missile. Always open every container you see—many of them bear energy or extra ammunition.

   - Locked and blocked

   To open the gate, scan the small box on the left-hand side of the room, then shoot the two locks above the gate. Once the gate opens, move through the hallway and look for a box on the right-hand side. Scan it to open another passage and access the Map Station.

   - Mappy land

   Walk into the glowing yellow hologram to download a map of the area. Each new area will have a corresponding map that you must find. Map Stations upload schematics for only a specific area, and they don’t give you any maps of the Dark World.

3. Hive tunnel
   - A bad end

   Worker Splinters, relatively harmless insects native to Aether, have been busy preparing food for the hive. The unappetizing menu consists of deceased Galactic Federation troopers. Exterminate the bugs, then scan the bodies for more info.

   - Logbook entry

command chamber

CAPTAIN'S LOG

There are a few deceased troopers in the Command Chamber, and some of them have logbook entries that you can scan and examine at your leisure. When you're done sightseeing, take a look at the panel near the room's entrance—you'll need to find a power source to get it working again.

BIG BALLIN’

Go to the far side of the room and use the Morph Ball to enter a small crack in the wall. When you reach a gate, drop a bomb to clear the way. On the other side of the barrier, you'll discover a Bomb Slot. Roll into Morph Ball form and drop a bomb under the slot to propel yourself into it. Once you're in the slot, drop a bomb to activate the box near where you entered the room.

THE DEAD SHALL RISE AGAIN

After you activate the slot, you'll face your first test—a horde of Dark Troopers. They're the bodies of troopers that have been inhabited by forces from Aether's Dark World. Take them out with either a charged shot or a missile. Once you've fought your way to the front of the room, scan the panel to open a path.

hive chamber B

AFRAID OF THE DARK?

Entering Hive Chamber B will trigger a cut scene that shows Dark Samus—a creature of mysterious origin that is a mockery of the heroine. Give chase after the being flies into a nearby portal.

sky temple grounds

Going through the portal will give you your first taste of Aether's Dark World—a twisted version of Aether in which the very air is poison. After a fight against overwhelming odds, Samus is forced to flee back to the Light World. The brief trip comes at great cost—you will be missing your Grapple Beam, Morph Ball Bombs, Power Bombs, Boost Ball, Space Jump Boots and Missile Launcher. If there's a bright side to the whole mess, it's that you'll still have the Morph Ball, Scan Visor and Charge Beam.
temple grounds

> HIDDEN MORPH BALL TUNNEL

The far end of Hive Chamber B is blocked off, but there's a number of sac-like growths to the right of the exit. Shoot them to reveal a hidden tunnel, then use the Morph Ball and escape to the other side.

> LOWER THE BRIDGE

Watch for Splinters that explode from the wall—they're easy to eradicate but can often catch you unaware. When you've nuked the bugs, head up and around the room until you come to a bridge. Scan the nearby panel to bring the locks into view, then shoot the locks to make the bridge drop.

6 hive chamber C

> TROOPER SCOOPER

With your Missile Launcher missing in action, you'll have to rely on an old-fashioned Charge Beam to take down the Dark Troopers in Hive Chamber C. Before you leave, blast the boxes until you find a blue door that leads to a Save Station. The stations are scattered throughout Aether, and will let you save your progress and restore any missing energy.

9 collapsed tunnel

> logbook entry

Lore>Trooper Logs>Force Two>PFC M. Veroni

10 temple assembly site

When you step into the Temple Assembly Site, you'll be treated to a short cut scene that welcomes you to the Temple Grounds. Though the place might have been a bustling hive of activity at one point, it's now home only to local animals and broken-down machinery.

7 hive transport area

> GATE-CRASHING

Scan the panel near the elevator to activate it, then take a ride to the top. Go through a blue door and scan another panel to reveal a lock on either side of a sealed gate, then shoot the locks to enter the blighted landscape of the Industrial Site.

8 industrial site

> UP AND AWAY

A large crate blocks your progress through the Industrial Site. Find a small panel near the crate and scan it to winch the crate out of the way.

> WATCH FOR FALLING CRATES

Walk toward the door with the violet hologram on it, then turn around and look for a panel. Scan it to move the crate, then target the wire that holds the crate in the air and shoot it with your Power Beam. When it falls, it will create a bridge to the next area.
Upon entering the GFMC Compound, Samus will find a computer that contains a log of recent trooper activity. It seems that they were forced to land on the surface of Aether, but once there discovered that the local life-forms were... less than friendly. The entire operation was wiped out, but they did leave behind a present that a resourceful bounty hunter can claim as her own.

Mark the Map Station
There is a Map Station in the back of the G.F.S. Tyr. To find it, you must scan a door between the rows of seats. Once you download the map, which shows the remaining portion of the Temple Grounds, go back down the ramp.

Locate the Launcher
After you witness the sad fate of the G.F.S. Tyr's crew, look for a large box near the ship's ramp. If you blast it open with a charged shot, you'll find your old friend the Missile Launcher inside. Strap it on and get ready for battle.

As soon as you get the launcher, a pack of Dark Splinters will attack. The creatures are much more powerful than regular Splinters, so take them out with Charge Beam attacks and missiles.

Logbook Entries
- Research->Mechanisms->G.F.S. Tyr
- Lore->Trooper Logs->Force One->CAPT. A. Exeter
- Lore->Trooper Logs->Force One->LCPL J. Brode

Now that the grim fate of the Galactic Federation Troopers is known, Samus can continue on her way. But the simple mission will become a lot more complicated when the Luminos enter the picture. Bombs will definitely help.
temple grounds

1 GFMC compound
> A HANDY HOLE

Return to the ship and jump through the hole in the side. Walk around the ledge and activate the Kinetic Orb Cannon. Use the Morph Ball to roll into the hologram, causing the cannon to blast you to the other side of the room. From there, you can reach a door that’s sealed with a blast shield. Open the shield with a missile, and use the nearby Morph Ball tunnel to get Cran’s logbook entry.

3 sacred path
> CANNONBALL FUN

There is a weakened wall on the left-hand side of Sacred Path. Blast it with a missile to start it crumbling, then jump off the ledge and look for a panel inside a wall crack. Scanning the panel will activate—you guessed it—a Kinetic Orb Cannon. Let it blast you through the cracked rock, then roll down the tunnel, across the set of tracks and onward to a blue door. The elevator beyond leads to the Great Temple.

4 transport A access
> DRIVEN BATTY

A swarm of Sandbats will appear as soon as you enter Transport A Access. They’re difficult to scan at this point, so don’t worry if you miss them—you’ll have plenty of chances later on. You can find a hidden Save Station by rolling through the hole in the left-hand wall.

5 temple sanctuary
> FIGHTING THE SPLINTER BROTHERS

Interference in the Temple Sanctuary will make it impossible to scan the object on the ceiling. You won’t need to wonder about it for long, however—simply step into the middle of the room to trigger a battle with the creatures inside. Take out the first enemies (a group of Dark Splinters) with the Charge Beam. You’ll want to save your missiles for the later stages of the fight.

> TAKE THE SHORT WAY HOME

There is only one way to go from inside the Temple Sanctuary—up. Head for the only open door and take the elevator to the room above.
Inside the Main Energy Controller, you'll meet U-Mos, the last sentinel of the Luminoth race. He will tell you the history of his people, explain the increasingly unstable nature of Aether and ask for your assistance. Since Samus is never one to refuse aid to another even if the pay is lousy, she obliges him.

Head up by walking around the edge of the room, then jump across platforms to the door with an amber symbol. Turn left and leap across the running sands, then blast the pillar with a missile to reach the door with a Blast Shield. The Brizgees are invulnerable until you crack their outer shell with a missile. After that, you can blast them with any weapon in your inventory.

Agon Temple: Bomb Guardian

The Agon Temple boss starts out as an Alpha Sandigger, but quickly turns into a Bomb Guardian. Scan the alpha version as soon as you enter the room, or you might miss the opportunity.

BATTLE THE BOMB GUARDIAN

Lock on to the Sandigger eyes and let fly with a Charge Beam shot or a missile—dash around the side to avoid the toxic spit. There's only one way to reach the top of the Mining Plaza, and that's by working your way around ledges at the edge of the room. Along the way, look for pillars with bases composed of Brizstone. If you blast each base with a missile, its pillar will fall and create a bridge. You can also find a Save Station behind a red door.

ARRI PIRATES!

It wouldn't be a Metroid game without some Space Pirates to muck up your plans. Three Pirate Troopers are waiting in Mining Station A, and they'll press the attack as soon as you enter the room. Stay on the ground and take them out with missiles and the Charge Beam. They can do a lot of damage in a short amount of time, so make liberal use of your side-step.

   No creature of the light can withstand the Dark World's poisonous atmosphere for long. You'll need to make use of ancient Luminoth technology (and maybe a few of the natives) to traverse the area safely.

   Using Light Beacons

   To avoid Dark Aether's poison air, the Luminoth scattered crystals and beacons throughout the world. Crystals are always active unless covered in dark matter, but beacons must be lit with the Power Beam. Beacons will stay lit only for a short period of time, and both they and crystals will heal you.

judgment pit: jump guardian
Your Space Jump Boots, the handiest tool an explorer could want, have been boosted by an Ing. To get them back, you'll have to take the boss down to earth—which means plenty of missiles and a little jumping of your own. If you run low on ammo or energy, take out a few BladePods.

jumping the gun
For the most part, you can fight the Jump Guardian in the same way you fought the Warrior Ing. Keep the Light Crystal between yourself and the boss so you have a bit of defense against long-range attacks, and use the Charge Beam and missiles when you have an open shot. You can't damage the Jump Guardian while it's in the air, or for brief moments before and after it takes off and lands. Wait for the guardian's blue shimmer to vanish before you start firing missiles. The beast will often jump and hit the ground, causing a quake—leap over the shockwaves and return fire. When its life bar is nearly empty, the boss will move very quickly. Use rapid blasts from the Power Beam to get in shots when you can.

     - As soon as you enter the room, you'll begin a fierce battle with three waves of Pirate Troopers. (Don't worry if you don't scan the skiff before it flies off—you'll have a chance to get it later.) The first two waves will attack with bisters and handheld combat, take each one out with a Charge Beam blast and a single missile.
TURRETS

The final two troopers will leap into the Vigilance Class Turrets and start firing. Lock on to the turrets and take them out with a barrage of missiles. Once the battle is over, resupply by busting open the various crates.

When you reach the Dark Agon Temple, walk into the light to place all three keys and unlock the temple. After the cinema scene, jump down to the surface. The big boss battle is about to begin.

dark agon temple: amorbis

The guardian of Dark Agon Temple is a huge sandworm called Amorbis. The battle is tough, but the fact that the beast spews energy pickups when it’s hit will make it easier. Try to stay inside the range of a Light Crystal to avoid being damaged by the atmosphere. If Amorbis covers the crystal with ooze, you’ll have to wait several seconds for it to reactivate.

amorbis 1

Amorbis will dive underground when the battle starts. Keep an eye on the radar to see where the beast will pop up next. (If it is going to surface near your position, the Controller will rumble—get out of the way quickly!) As soon as Amorbis leaps into view, start firing away with missiles or the Light Beam. Several hits will get you to the next stage of the battle.

amorbis 2

After you strike Amorbis a few times, it will latch on to the sphere in the middle of the temple and transform. Charge up the Light Beam and hit the worm right in the face to break off part of its shell—it will then try to suck you into its mouth. Roll into Morph Ball form and enter the boss, then plant bombs to damage it. When you do, it will leave the sphere and the battle will begin anew. You’ll have to fight two worms in the second round and three in the third, and they all become tougher as the battle progresses. When you’re fighting multiple worms, they will sometimes join forces and fire an energy beam at you. Use the Morph Ball to see the beam coming and roll out of the way. You can also double-jump over the beams as they come toward you.

Grenchlers Throw Down

There are two Grenchlers in Forgotten Bridge. The creatures are invulnerable to attack from nearly all sides, but you can take them down with shots to their soft backs. Lock on to the beasts and dash around them to get a clear shot. It will take multiple missiles to finish them, so charged Dark Beam shots are your best bet. Focus on one animal at a time.

Get to the Portal
When the beasts are no more, it's time to climb. Head up to the ledge on the right-hand side of the room and look for a Bomb Slot in flux. Cross the bridge next to the slot, then use the Dark Beam to activate the portal and enter the room's evil twin.

When it does, shoot the monster to flip it over, then use it as a stepping stone to reach a pair of tail, mushroom-like platforms. Dark Torvus Arena: Boost Guardian Reclaiming the Boost Ball will necessitate a fight against the speediest guardian of them all. It’s a pretty difficult fight, so go into it with full energy. You’ll want at least four extra Energy Tanks—the more the merrier.

Boost-Ball Battle

The guardian locks and acts much like a Warrior Ing in the initial stages of the fight. When it takes form, hit it with either a charged Light Beam or a Super Missile. If you use the beam, get as close as you can before firing to ensure that the entire spread hits the boss. There are no crystals or beacons, so you’ll need to rely on Inlets for energy.

When the guardian starts zipping around the room, double-jump or enter Morph Ball form to avoid its attacks. After a bit, it will turn into a puddle—drop bombs on the puddle to make the boss revert to its original form. If the monster rams one of the four pillars, an Ultra Energy Unit will spill out. There are four in all, and they’ll prove invaluable.

hall of honored dead: seeker missile launcher

The Seeker Missile Launcher allows you to fire five separate missiles at five separate targets—or hit the same target five times, if you prefer. The Luminoth have kept the powerful weapon in lockdown for a long while, but it's time for you to release it and take it home. To use the launcher, press and hold the Y Button, then move your Arm Cannon around until you start locking on to targets. To hit the same target multiple times, move the cursor over it repeatedly.

unlock the launcher
You'll need to rotate the locks so they turn beige, and you want to work from the outside in. Use the Spinners in the following order: purple, blue, yellow, red. Sometimes the inner ring will change colors before the outer one. When that happens, keep spinning until the outermost ring changes. When you've turned all the locks beige, you can walk into the middle of the room and take the Seeker Missile Launcher.

To start your trek back to the bog, use the ball-sized tunnel in service access (next to the Landing Site). Go back to the Torvus Temple and take the elevator down, then look for a Morph Ball tunnel near a red patch of wall. Drop into the tunnel and use the Super Missile to blast the door open—you’ll end up in an elevator that takes you to the Hydrodynamo Station.

5. Hydrodynamo Station

You can save your game at the top level of the station. To stop further Preeds from entering the station, blast the small circles on the wall with missiles. When you’re ready, drop to the bottom of the room. Watch out for the Bloggs—they’re tough customers.

6. Training Chamber

Rotate the Floor

So you thought you whupped Dark Samus already? Well, the evil one has a surprise for you—she’s back and angrier than ever. You won’t have to fight her just yet, however, so drop into the water and take out the Bloggs. The Gravity Boost is in a small room at the very bottom of the Hydrodynamo area. The new device will let you move effortlessly in water and float for a time after a double jump—simply press and hold B (as long as you’re in water).

the alpha blogg battle

The Alpha Blogg fight becomes easy with practice, but it can be pretty tricky the first time around. Like regular Bloggs, the Alpha is vulnerable only in its mouth. Stay as far from it as you can and charge your Power Beam. When it thrashes a couple of times and then bolts toward you, unleash a Super Missile and sidestep simultaneously. Sometimes it will fire sonic blasts—avoid them, or you won’t be able to see or fire your weapon for a moment. If you’re having trouble hitting the boss with the Super Missile (which can be a chore because of the slight delay in firing), switch to a charged Dark Beam.

sacrificial chamber: grapple guardian

Poor Grapple Guardian. All it wants to do is steal your Grapple Beam and smash you into jelly, and you have to go and shoot it in the back. Man, some hero you are.

first phase

Scan the Grapple Guardian to expose one of its weaknesses: its eye. Once the eye is purple (scanned), you can unleash ammo into it to stun it for a moment. When that happens, dash around and fire a Super Missile at its rear end. After three or four hits, the entire tail will crack off. You have to be very quick to make this strategy work—the method outlined below is easier, but more time-consuming.

During the fight, the boss will attempt to trample you. When you make it angry by shooting its eye, it will respond by firing its Grapple Beam. When it does, stand behind one of the two blue pillars—the beam will usually attack to one of them and trap the boss, at which point you can get behind it and launch a Super Missile.

second phase

Once the tail falls off, the guardian will have a few moments of invulnerability. When the boss comes after you again, you can't use the pillar-tether trick. Shoot its eye and shift around to whittle health off of its tail.

REFILLS ARE ON THE HOUSE

When you enter the bottom of the Dark Torvus Temple, avoid the red glowing area in the middle at all costs. Enter the two doors on the outer edges—one holds an Ammo Station that will replenish your supplies, and the other contains an Energy Tank. After stocking up, enter the red area and proceed to the boss battle.

dark torvus temple: chykka

The Chykka is a multipart boss battle that will require all of your skill and cunning. There's also a number of things to scan, so if you're trying to fill the logbook, be sure to get everything. To begin the fight, you must free the boss from its prison. Target the four spots that hold the cocoon in place, and give each one a few shots with the Power Beam. Then it's time to play exterminator.

chykka larva

The Chykka Larva will circle the platform, surfacing every once in a while. Track it with the Light Beam (you'll need to aim manually) and fire a few shots whenever it pokes out of the water. When the water starts to churn and the controller rumbles, the larva is about to perform a full-body leap. When it jumps, lock on (the radar helps to locate it) and hit it with a charged Light Beam, then jump over the wave of poison water. After taking some damage, the larva will occasionally leap onto the platform and try to catch you. With its tongue—dodge and hit it in the face with multiple Light Beam attacks. Don't worry much about the Dark Shredders: one missile each will take them down. If you run low on Light Beam ammo, hit the Shredders with the Dark Beam instead.
chykka adult

You'll need to stun the adult Chykka before you can damage it. The creature is very agile, so the Light Beam won't work very well. Lock on and blast away with the Power Beam. Once the boss is stunned, use the Grapple Beam to hop from island to island and get behind the Chykka. You usually have to hop only one space in either direction.

dark chykka

The Dark Chykka's weak point is the abdomen. The beast sways around a lot, so from a distance, you'll need to hit it with the Power Beam. If you get very close, however, you can switch to the charged Light Beam, which will devastate the creature. When it releasing Chyklings, take them out with the Darkburs—you'll blast them all, and get Light Beam ammo in the process.

blast the wings

Once you're behind the Chykka, target one of the four weak spots on the wings and hit it with a Super Missile. You won't have time to charge the missile after you land, so start charging the Power Beam as you're grappling into position. The front and back of the Chykka look similar—if you keep locking on to the body instead of the wings, you're aiming at the front. To help alleviate the problem, watch which way the bug turns when you stun it, then grapple in the opposite direction. Once you've blasted all four weak points, you can move on to the Dark Chykka portion of the fight. If you don't eliminate the Dark Chykka on the first go-around (and you probably won't), you'll have to shoot the wings again.

> All Shall Pass

When you reach Sanctuary Fortress, you’ll have to drop two security barriers. Blast the two turrets in your way, then scan a panel to lower the first one. The second is activated with a Spinner.

7. Sanctuary Entrance

Sanctuary Fortress is an imposing sight for even the most seasoned space adventurer. From the multiple Spider Ball Tracks to the bizarre futuristic architecture, everything about it speaks of danger and mystery. Too bad you don’t have any time to gawk—the pirates are coming.

8. Power Junction
> Watch Out for the Octopeedes

The walls of the Power Junction are crawling with Octopeedes. The critters aren’t particularly dangerous if left alone, but once you shoot them, they’ll self-destruct. Shoot from a distance and stay there until they blow up. If you want to avoid their self-destructive ways, blast them with the Dark Beam instead of the Power Beam.

9. Reactor Access
> Locate the Five Points

Turn on the Dark Visor, then examine the area around the circular decoration to find five red circles. Blast all five with the Seeker Missile Launcher to open a new path. When you do, a Rezbit will appear. The creature is quite dangerous and can be tough to eliminate. Charge up the Dark Beam and wait for the Rezbit to drop the blue shield, then fire.

10. Reactor Core
> Fight Headfirst

A Quad patrols the hallways of Sanctuary Fortress. The best way to attack one is to shoot off the head with a Super Missile, then take out the bottom with the Boost Ball. When you see a red light emerge between the legs, hit the boost and run into it. You can force the light to appear by boosting into the Quad while it’s spinning.

> Leave None Alive

You’ll face a squad of Pirate Commandos when you try to cross the long blue bridge. Use the large boxes for cover and pull ammo and energy from the smaller ones if need be. The Darkburst can wipe out a Commando in one shot, but wait for it to drop the shield before you fire. Shooting the barrels of Phacon is also an effective strategy.
PLAN B

If you destroy the body before taking out the head, the top portion will detach and begin flying around. Note the color of the shield around the head, then attack with the opposite-colored beam (Dark Beam for white and Light Beam for purple). The head is quick and can be a bit of a pain—again, try to eliminate it before the body.

CLIMB THE LADDER

dynamo works: spider guardian

Scan the Spider Guardian before you enter the tunnel at the beginning of Dynamo Works— if you don’t, you’ll never get another chance. The battle is more like a puzzle than a fight, and parts of it are very tricky. If you don’t have full energy and plenty of patience, come back after you’ve refilled both.

stage one

The only way to damage the Spider Guardian is to make it run into electrical pylons. To do so, you’ll need to drop bombs next to the boss until it turns green, then hurry to the nearby Bomb Slot. The Spider Guardian has three different colors— red, orange and green—and the slot will be active only when it is green. When you drop a bomb in the slot, it will open a striped panel that will allow the boss to run into the pylons. The real trick is timing your bombs so they explode next to the boss, but giving yourself enough time to escape the electrical field it generates. In the first stage, try dropping bombs on the left-hand side of the lower gap. If the boss hits the top platform, drop a bomb in the slot, then use the Bomb Jump to climb up the left-hand platforms and escape the electrical field. Drop only two bombs next to the boss—if you drop three, you’ll have to wait to generate another bomb for the jump, during which time the boss can attack. You can use the X Button to zoom in and out of the puzzle.

stages two and three

In stage two, use the Boost Ball to get onto the right-hand platform, then fall off your perch and lay bombs as the boss is approaching. After you hit the Spider Guardian, use the brief pause to build up speed on the half pipe and reach the upper-left platform. If the boss turns green, roll to the Bomb Slot. If not, repeat the process.

In stage three, get on the top platform and wait on the left-hand side of the gap. When the boss approaches, drop straight down and lay bombs, then start building speed on the half pipe and return to the top platform. If the boss turns green, roll down to the Bomb Slot. While on the top platform, roll to the far-left edge to escape the boss’s electrical field.

stage four

There are three Bomb Slots in stage four. Go to the bottom and wait to the right of the gap between the middle set of platforms, then drop bombs for the boss and jump back to the left-hand platform directly above you. If you stay in the middle of the platform, the energy field won’t hurt you. From that position, you can keep dropping down to the lower platform and laying bombs.

When the boss turns green, rush to the lower Bomb Slot and plant a bomb—wait until the Spider Guardian is on the right-hand side of the screen! If it’s on the left, it will hit the panel and you’ll have to start over. Use the same strategy for the second and third pylons, dropping bombs in slots from the top down. Don’t wait to see if the boss turns green before you start moving toward the upper slots. You don’t have a lot of time to reach each one, and the extra few seconds you’ll gain from a head start outweigh the inconvenience of having to drop down a level and try again. The Boost Ball is very effective in this part of the fight—you can use it to boost through the boss while it’s stunned, and it will also let you fly across small gaps and save precious seconds. In many ways, the Spider Guardian is the toughest boss in the game, so don’t worry if it takes you a couple of tries to get the hang of the battle. If you keep failing on the last stage, an extra Energy Tank might help. Be sure to collect all the tanks you can before the fight begins, even if it means backtracking out of the fortress.

> STOP! WHAT’S THAT SOUND?

Use the Echo Visor to locate a troublesome audio menace, then eliminate it to free up the Kinetic Orb Cannon. Shoot up to the top and head for the Watch Station.

10 watch station
> WHAT A TRIP

Jump onto the platform and head for the other side of the room, then find the Spider Ball Track and use it to reach the Kinetic Orb Cannon. While you’re on the moving track, drop a bomb as soon as you come to a red set of bars. At the far end of the track, you can either drop to the Bomb Slot (press Up as you fall) or get a Beam Ammo Expansion.

Bombing the slot in the Watch Station will let you access a portal. Go through it and enter Aerial Training Site, then take out the Dark Pirate Commandos and head through the nearby blue door. Blast all the Dark Preeds before you attempt to grapple across the gap, then swing away and use the portal on the other side.

vault: screw attack

There's no boss guarding the Screw Attack—just five Rezbits. Keep your Dark Beam charged at all times; one hit from it, followed by a missile, will eliminate the pesky enemies.

round and round

There are platforms at the four corners of the Vault, and each one holds a Spinner. Leap from platform to platform, using the Spinners to lock four lasers in place. (They should all paint at the center of the room if you do it correctly.) With that done, head back to the portal and go through it. Are you tired of portals yet? Of course not. Portals are fun.

> ORBITAL

Jump to the large orb in the middle of Hive Gyro Chamber, and assume your Spider Ball form to reach the top. At the end of the track, boost up to another track, then boost across the circle to snag the last Dark Temple Key.

> ATHLETIC BOOSTER

If you fall off the orb, you'll need to Spider-Ball back up. There are many rooms around the chamber (including a Save Station), but the Darkling Tentacles make them tough to reach. Don't bother with the platforms—instead, line yourself up with the room of choice and boost your way into it.

9 hive ammo station

> PRIMED FOR BATTLE

The top door in Hive Gyro Chamber will lead you to an Ammo Station. Use it to restock, then go back to the chamber and boost to the red door and a Save Station. Once the game is saved and you're ready for battle, go through the door that has red beams of light on either side. Don't touch the light—it will damage you.

hive temple: quadraxis

Hooo, boy. Quadraxis is hundreds of feet tall and armed to the teeth with missiles, lasers and all kinds of diabolical tricks. It's also incredibly well-armed and able to sustain unbelievable amounts of damage. If that sounds like an unfair fight, just remember—you're Samus Aran. With the Super Missiles in one hand and the Boost Ball in the other, you stand a fighting chance. The key word, however, is "fighting."

go for the knees

Look for the knee cap that is glowing blue. Blast it with a pair of Super Missiles to collapse the leg and begin another round of battle against the red spheres. Quadraxis will launch a variety of weapons, including missiles, beams and a ground quake, but you can boost away from most of them. The robot will speed up as you blow off each knee joint, making the last one fairly hard to hit. To simplify things early on, fire one Super Missile at each of the four knees before destroying a single one—that way you'll need to hit each of the final three only once. Also look for red balls on the feet. If you're low on energy or ammo, use the Boost Ball to roll under the feet and strike them—two hits will disable a ball and spew pickups all over the place.
locking on and spinning out

Quadraxis has a laser targeting system that does a lot of damage. If it locks on to you, three rings will appear around you. When that happens, use the Boost Ball to break the lock.

Quadraxis also has a spin attack. There's no surefire way to avoid it unless you are at the edge of the arena, in which case you can fire at the red spot that appears between its legs. If you're drawn toward the spin, try to boost around it—the force of the pull plus the boost can slingshot you around the boss and out of danger.

attack the antenna

Once the head separates, use the Echo Visor to find the antenna that emerges from the body, then destroy it with the Screw Attack or a charged Light Beam to stun the head. While the head is stunned, use the same visor to find antennas on it, and destroy them with the Sunburst. Scan three things during the fight—the body, the head, and the stunned head.

> FOREWARNED AND FOREARMED

Once you have all nine Sky Temple Keys, you can end the Ing’s reign of terror once and for all. Head back to Sky Temple Gateway via the portal in Hall of Eyes, and step into the red light. (There’s no Ammo Station nearby, so restock at your ship before you start the long journey.) When the keys are in place, they will unlock an energy transport to the Sky Temple. Step into the yellow light, then save your game once you enter the temple. Go through the blue door, and Wall-Jump up the side of the tube until you reach another blue door—the final boss is just on the other side.

sanctum: emperor ing

The Emperor Ing has three stages and can be scanned five different times. The Annihilator Beam (especially the Sonic Boom Charge Combo) is the best weapon for the first stage, but it will burn through your ammo. If you didn’t grab all four Beam Ammo Expansions, you could be in for a long fight.

stage one: the eye

Once all the tentacles retract, the Emperor Ing will transform into a large eye. The only weak point is a narrow slit between two half-spheres, and you must target it manually. The Sonic Boom will take off a ton of the Ing’s energy in a single hit, so use it if you can. Otherwise, launch Super Missiles. Dash to the side to avoid the red laser that the eye shoots out.

stage one: tentacle strike

The Emperor Ing uses tentacles to whip you into the Phazon pools. Blast the arms with the Annihilator Beam—the shots will home in on the tentacles, so use only a few shots for each one, and save your ammo. When the Ing swings the tentacles around, double-jump to avoid them. It can also warp them through portals—watch for that.
Stage Two: Chrysalis

In the second phase, the emperor will form a hard shell. Spider-Ball along the surface and drop bombs on the tentacles that emerge from holes. Wait next to a hole until you see purple bubbles, then drop three bombs and scoot away. Hit the lower holes first, because poison gas will rise from the floor later in the battle. Also note the Inglets roaming the surface—they come in unlimited numbers, so bomb them for all the energy and ammo pickups you want.

Stage Three: The Emperor

The third form is a massive creature. Keep moving at all times to minimize the effectiveness of its attacks. The beast’s attacks include a charge that you can avoid with a quick dash or the Morph Ball, an earthquake that must be double jumped, and a multitude of laser and beam attacks—dashing works well for those.

Stage Three Strategy

Pay attention to the color of the Ing’s mouth, and counter with the appropriate beam weapon. The Annihilator Beam is effective against all three colors, but using it for everything will burn through your ammo. As an alternative, use Super Missiles for orange, the Light Beam for purple and the Dark Beam for white. If you run low on ammo, shoot the Nightbars and clouds of white squiggly things that occasionally appear around the boss—these often appear when you are low on ammo. Finally, look for a small hole on the back of the emperor’s head. If the beast charges at you and misses, you can unload your weapon into the hole and cause damage.

Escape!

After you defeat the Emperor Ing, a countdown will start. Don’t get caught up in your flashbacks to the NES Metroid—just jump on top of the middle platform and Screw-Attack over to the door.

sky temple gateway: dark samus

Thought it was over, did you? The Emperor Ing was just a warmup for the true boss of bosses: Dark Samus. You'll have to use whatever energy and ammo you have left over from the Emperor Ing, as there's no stop in between. And as if you needed another challenge, you've got it—a timer ticks down throughout the entire fight. Work fast, hunter.

stage one

Dark Samus begins by rising into the air and unloading a massive beam of pure Phazon. You can't damage her at this point, so sidestep the beam and wait for her to land on the ground. When she does, hit her with a Super Missile. Do it quickly, or she'll disappear and force you to track her with the Echo Visor. If that happens, shoot while she's zooming toward you.

stage two

After you blast away some of Dark Samus's health, she will assume a different form. Lock on to her while she floats in the air, and move side to side to avoid the projectiles. Keep your Charge Beam going at all times—your evil twin will occasionally fire Phazon bullets that you can absorb and shoot back at her. Repeat the process until she goes down.

the world rejoices

The task is done, the mission accomplished. Dark Aether has fallen, and the Luminoth are once again free to pursue their lives of intellectual curiosity and peaceful self-enlightenment. Though statues are sure to be erected in her honor all over the planet, Samus isn't one to stay and gloat. Wave goodbye to your new friends and head back to the stars.
If you need a better look at the world, this is the section for you. All of the maps for all of Aether's lands are here—including both the Dark and Light Worlds. It also contains detailed instructions on finding every expansion, and a list of all the logbook entries.
Your trek through Aether will span many areas in both the Light World and the Dark World. Use the following pages to maintain your bearings: You'll see how all of the maps connect and where to find every expansion, power-up and helpful station.

There is a group of one-way portals in the Transit Station in Sanctuary Fortress. Start with callout U and work your way through.
The game’s 14 Energy Tanks and 48 Missile, four Beam Ammo and eight Power Bomb Expansions are listed in the order you’ll find them if you follow the walk-through. Note that the Missile Launcher and Seeker Missile Launcher each give you five missiles.

missile launcher

E1 storage cavern B
> TEMPLE GROUNDS
When you get the Missile Launcher, use it to blast the lock off a red door on the edge of Temple Grounds. The Energy Tank is waiting for you inside the room.

M1 transport to agon wastes
> TEMPLE GROUNDS
When you enter Transport to Agon Wastes, turn to the left and look for a bunch of webbing. Shoot the green circle in the middle to find the expansion.

morph ball bomb

M2 sand cache
> AGON WASTES
After you visit the Agon Energy Controller, you’ll gain the ability to open amber doors. Go to the top level of Mining Station A and scan the amber door there. When it drops, go through the blue door and grab the expansion.

E2 mining station access
> AGON WASTES
Enter Mining Station Access and drop a bomb on the block in the middle of the tunnel. Doing so will drop you into a Kinetic Orb Cannon, which will then launch you through an open tunnel and into a nook that contains the Energy Tank.

M3 portal access A
> AGON WASTES
After using the Kinetic Orb Cannons to reach the far side of Portal Access A, roll off the top level and onto the Missile Expansion. It is located behind the body of the deceased Luminoth.

space jump boots

M4 transport center
> AGON WASTES
After you return from your first trip to the Dark World, take the left-hand door at the far end of Portal Terminal and activate the Bomb Slot.

A M5 command center
> AGON WASTES
When you first enter the Command Center, you’ll do so in Morph Ball form by rolling under the floor. Roll through the first two electrical barriers, then hang a right and go to the end of the path for a Missile Expansion.

E3 bioenergy production
> AGON WASTES
Use the controls on the far side of the room to raise and lower a series of platforms. (You must first turn the controls on by scanning the single panel on the other side of the room.) While standing at the controls and looking out at the platforms, lower one platform on the left, two in the middle and three on the right. Then double-jump between them to reach an Energy Tank.

dark beam / light beam

M6 storage B
> AGON WASTES
After you get the Dark Beam, defeat the Metroids in Biorstorage Station and then go through the dark door on the top floor.

B1 central mining station
> AGON WASTES
Use the light door on the top floor of Command Center to reach Central Mining Station, then use the left-hand turret to blast three gray generators—one below you, one on the right-hand wall and one on the far wall in front of you. Leave the gun and jump onto the skiff, then jump on platforms to reach the hole left by the second generator. Follow the path and roll behind the force field for the expansion.
dark suit

M7 temple assembly site
TEMPLE GROUNDS

Jump onto a short pillar to the left-hand side of the door that leads to the elevator, then jump from there to the cliff. Follow the cliff to a tunnel, then roll down the tunnel and grab the Missile Expansion.

M8 transport B access
GREAT TEMPLE

Put your back to the elevator in Transport B Access and look for a slot in the wall about halfway down the hallway. Roll it in with the Morph Ball, then use Bomb Jumps to climb the steps and roll to an expansion.

M9 forgotten bridge
TORVUS BOG

After you activate the Bomb Slot in Dark Forgotten Bridge, go back to the Light World and walk across the bridge. The Missile Expansion is sitting on a ledge in plain sight. No tricks here—just pick it up.

E4 temple access
TORVUS BOG

Go through the dark door in Great Bridge to enter Temple Access. Look for two round circles on the floor, then drop a Morph Ball Bomb on the first one to shatter it. Fall down the hole to secure an Energy Tank.

boost ball / seeker missile launcher

M11 hive chamber A
TEMPLE GROUNDS

The second time you enter Hive Chamber A (after speaking to U-Mos for the first time), you'll meet a new foe: the Dark Missile Trooper. When you eliminate the threat, you'll be rewarded with a Missile Expansion.

M12 hive chamber B
TEMPLE GROUNDS

Locate the cracked, glowing cover that sits next to the tunnel you used at the beginning of the game. Drop a bomb next to it to blast the cover off, then roll down the tunnel and claim the expansion as your own.

M13 hydrodynamo station
TORVUS BOG

After unsealing the first lock in Hydrodynamo Station, you'll be able to reach a platform in front of a purple door. That's where Missile Expansion is waiting.

E5 transit tunnel east
TORVUS BOG

Go to the Bomb Slot in the tube at the left-hand end of Transit Tunnel East and use a Bomb Jump to activate it. Roll three tubes to the right and bomb your way to another slot—drop another bomb just before the top of your ascent. After that, roll two tubes to the left and bomb your way to an Energy Tank. It's timed so work fast or you'll have to start over from the second part of the task.
M14 undertransit one

DARK TORVUS BOG

Drop to the bottom tube and roll as far left as you can, then Bomb-Jump to the top tube and go through the gear at the top. On the other side, drop to the bottom tube and roll as far right as you can, then Bomb-Jump up and left (so you're in the middle tube). From there, Bomb-Jump up and right to get the Missile Expansion.

M17 portal chamber

TORVUS BOG

Get to the Dark World and enter Portal Chamber. Go to the side closest to Poisoned Bog, then double-jump up to the hole in the rock and roll through. Ride the piston down and use the portal to enter the Light World, then snag the expansion.

B2 cache A

DARK TORVUS BOG

Go to the purple door in Poisoned Bog and blast it open with a Seeker Missile. The Beam Ammo Expansion is waiting on the other side.

E7 cache B

DARK TORVUS BOG

Roll down the red tunnel at the end of Dark Torvus Temple and open the green door to get an Energy Tank. If you have all three Dark Temple Keys, avoid walking into the red light before snagging it or you'll have to wait until after the Torvus Bog boss battle.

E8 windchamber gateway

TEMPLE GROUNDS

Enter Windchamber Gateway through the green door in Path of Eyes. Use the Gravity Boost to leap over the Venom Weed and float to the prize.

E6 mine shaft

AGON WASTES

Boost left until you see a square stone with a crack. Bomb-Jump on top of it, then jump left to another ledge. Boost as far left as you can, then keep pressing Left while the brown blocks vanish so you can roll onto a ledge. Boost and hold Left until you hit a ledge, then jump on top of it. Roll to another set of blocks and keep pressing Left so you enter the cracked wall. Stay in the middle of the wall (don't roll onto the brown block) and Bomb-Jump up and left to land on a ledge. Jump up one more time, then keep pressing Left until you fall onto the Energy Tank.

M18 path of roots

TORVUS BOG

Use the Grapple Beam to swing across the water and grab a Missile Expansion floating on top of a wrecked metal cage. You must enter from the Great Bridge side of the room to find the grapple point.

M15 crossroads

DARK AGON WASTES

Use the Boost Ball to reach the top of the half-pipe in Transport Center. When you land on the ledge, you'll find a one-way portal. Head into the Dark World and grab the Missile Expansion that is staring you in the face.

M19 torvus lagoon

TORVUS BOG

Jump into the water at the front of the room and look for the Missile Expansion in a small alcove on ahilledge. Use the Gravity Boost to leap over the Venom Weed and float to the prize.

M16 abandoned works

TORVUS BOG

Use the Grapple Beam to fly through the air and land on the far ledge where a Missile Expansion waits. If you enter from the Great Bridge side, you'll need to grapple over and then turn around and grapple back.
M20 transport A access

> GREAT TEMPLE
Roll into the hole where the Save Station is, then drop a bomb next to the pile of Talloric-Alloy-infused rocks. Roll down the new path to an expansion.

M21 dynamo works

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS
After you defeat the Spider Guardian, follow the Spider Ball Tracks right then up. Just before you leave the last section of the boss's lair for the third-last section (after a long stretch of track that leads straight up), you'll see a small ledge. Bomb-Jump to the ledge, then roll to a Missile Expansion. (Check the screen to the left if you're unsure about which ledge to use.)

M23 gathering hall

> TORVUS BOG
Use a pair of Power Bombs to break the glass and seal under the pool and drain it, revealing a half-pipe. Boost up the pipe and grab the Spider Ball Track on either side, then use a combination of Bomb-Jumping and boosting to reach the Bomb Slot. Activate the slot, then repeat the process on the opposite side. Use the Grapple Beam to reach a new platform halfway up the wall, then jump to the expansion.

E9 reactor core

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS
Use the Kinetic Orb Cannon to boost to the large orb, and stick to it with the Spider Ball. Roll up to a second orb and sit on the red dot, then boost to another orb. Roll to the red dot and wait for the electricity on the next orb to disappear, then boost to it. If you're fast, you can roll from dot to dot and boost it all the way to the end. If you're hit by electricity, you'll fall and have to start over.

P1 sanctuary entrance

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS
Use a Power Bomb to shatter the cracked glass on the side of the Sanctuary Fortress entrance. Ride up the elevator and scan a panel to activate the Kinetic Orb Cannon, then use the cannon to reach a Spider Ball Track. Roll up the track and hop into the Heavy Turret.

Sunburst

Use the turret to blast three things: the wall on the far mountainside, the cracked facade on the temple and a spiky protrusion to the right of the facade. Leave the turret and find the Spider Ball Track to the side of the door to Sanctuary Fortress, then follow it to the new hole. Hop into the cannon and let it blast you to an expansion on the other side.
echo visor

P2 transit station

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS

Use a Power Bomb to break the cracked glass, and enter the portal behind it. Defeat the Dark Ingsmancher and use the portal behind the spot where it was standing, then roll through the tunnel and take another portal. Use the Spider Ball Track to access another portal, then use another track to cross the room and get a Power Bomb Expansion.

M24 main research

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS

Hop onto the Spider Ball Track and follow it around to the Missile Expansion. You'll have to avoid the moving machine parts and occasionally Bomb-Jump up to a different section of track.

M25 central area transport west

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS

Go to the top of the room and drop down one level. Look for three holes in the floor, then fall down the far left-hand one. Take two more right-hand paths to land on top of the Missile Expansion.

M26 aerial training site

> ING HIVE

Look for the Wall Jump Surface near the portal, then use it to leap to an expansion. Wall-Jumping is a pretty tricky maneuver, so it might take you a few tries to reach the expansion. Be patient, and take out the Space Pirates before you work on securing the missiles.

B3 watch station

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS

Locate the Spider Ball Track on the side of the room and take it to the Kinetic Orb Cannon in the center of the room. Use the cannon to shoot yourself at another track on the far wall, then head right until you get on a moving track. Hold still and drop a bomb as soon as you pass a set of red bars to move from one rotating track to the next.

E10 watch station access

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS

Enter Watch Station Access via the door in Watch Station and grab the Energy Tank sitting on a ledge.

annihilator beam

M27 sentinel's path

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS

Put on the Echo Visor and fire the Annihilator Beam at the Echo Door to hear the patterns, then shoot the Echo Key Beam Emitters in the correct order.
M28 temple access

- SANCTUARY FORTRESS

Drop to the main floor and use the Dark Visor and Seeker Missile to find a Kinetic Orb Cannon. Use it, then use the Echo Visor to find an invisible sonic device. Blast it, then run back to the cannon and use it again. Whirl in a Spinner to escape.

P3 main gyro chamber

- SANCTUARY FORTRESS

Drop to the bottom floor of Main Gyro Chamber and use the Echo Visor and Annihilator Beam to open the door. Hop into the cannon there to be blasted into space and reveal a Power Bomb Expansion.

M29 ventilation area A

- AGON WASTES

Roll to the right-hand block and take out the Pillbag, then use a Bomb Jump to hop on top of the block. Jump again to the level above you, then roll to the left to pick up an expansion.

M30 main reactor

- AGON WASTES

Go to the bottom floor and locate a Spider Ball track near the elevator. (Not the one that leads to a dead Luminoth—the one to the right of that.) Take the track up and use the Boost Ball to reach the next track, timing your leaps so you fly through the gaps in the metal. At the end of the line, drop a bomb on the glass circle for the expansion.

sonic boom

M31 sand processing

- AGON WASTES

Use the half-pipe to reach a small tunnel that leads into a small control room. Scan the panel and use a Bomb Slot to drain the sand from the other section of Sand Processing, then roll back out and collect the Missile Expansion.

M32 storage C

- AGON WASTES

Raise the platforms in the middle of Bioenergy Production, then look for a Spider Ball Track behind the control panel. Roll it up and keep going. Eventually you’ll hit a series of tracks that you must boost to. When you reach the middle of the room, boost out to the middle platform, then roll around to the other side and boost to the ledge with a green door. Blast it with a Super Missile to find the expansion.

M33 mining station A

- AGON WASTES

Use a Power Bomb to shatter the cracked wall, then crawl along the Spider Ball Track for the expansion. The first Bomb Jump is a little tricky—you’ll have to release R just as the bomb explodes, then press it again to grab the upper track.

E11 mining plaza

- AGON WASTES

Turn on the Echo Visor to locate the three invisible audio devices, then shoot all three to line up solar panels and open a small hole in the cliff face. Use the Screw Attack to fly through the air and secure the Energy Tank inside.

light suit

M34 war ritual grounds

- SKY TEMPLE GROUNDS

Use the Dark Visor to find five circles surrounding a round door, then blast them with the Seeker Missile. Voilà! An expansion for you.
M35 plain of dark worship

SKY TEMPLE GROUNDS
Walk into the base of the Ingworm mass and grab the expansion. It's that kind of complex strategy that makes this guide so valuable.

P4 dynamo chamber

TEMPLE GROUNDS
Use a Power Bomb to destroy the security gate, then drop another Power Bomb near the weakened wall to reveal a Power Bomb Expansion.

M36 communication area

TEMPLE GROUNDS
Double-jump up to the ledge near the entrance and look for a round pane of glass. Drop a Morph Ball Bomb on the glass to shatter it, then enter the hole left behind to find the Missile Expansion.

M37 GFMC compound

TEMPLE GROUNDS
Jump up to the ledge across from the ship, then use the Screw Attack to lean on top of the vessel. Walk all the way to the rear of the ship to find the Missile Expansion. Look carefully—it’s behind a lip on the very edge of the craft.

E12 fortress transport access

TEMPLE GROUNDS
Step into the bright yellow light, which will warp you into a room with an Energy Tank. Note that in real life standing in a bright beam of light is usually a bad idea, as it could easily be a train’s headlamp.

B4 profane path

SKY TEMPLE GROUNDS
Use the Echo Visor to decode the locks on the door on the ledge to access the Beam Ammo Expansion.

M38 phazon grounds

SKY TEMPLE GROUNDS
Use the Screw Attack to fly through the air and reach a Missile Expansion in the far-off cliff. You can also use the Dark Visor and hop on invisible platforms, but the Screw Attack will destroy Dark Fallon Metroids if they touch you—a useful bonus.

A M39 storage A

AGON WASTES
Use a Power Bomb on the cracked wall in Mining Station A, then open the light door and grab the tasty expansion within.

P5 sandcanyon

AGON WASTES
Jump to the middle platform by using the Screw Attack, then drop a Power Bomb next to the base of the statue. It will crack and fall away, leaving behind a Power Bomb Expansion.

P6 feeding pit

DARK AGON WASTES
Drop into the purple water and walk to the rear of the pond, where you'll find a small rock. The Power Bomb Expansion is inside.

M40 warrior's walk

DARK AGON WASTES
Look for a weak section of flooring, then drop a bomb and fall in. Roll to the far end of the Phazon-filled chasm to get a Missile Expansion. Even the Light Suit won’t protect you from the harmful effects of the Phazon, so move quickly.

M41 junction site

DARK AGON WASTES
Bomb-Jump up to the Spider Ball Track, then roll up and activate the Bomb Slot to rotate the entire room and reveal the Missile Expansion.

M42 ing cache 4

DARK AGON WASTES
Go through the dark door at the base of Dueling Range, walk forward and turn around. The Missile Expansion is inside a small tunnel that can be accessed by the Morph Ball.

M43 torvus grove

TORVUS BOG
Scan the tree to find two weakened legs. Drop Power Bombs next to each one to fell the tree and break a hole in the wall. The Missile Expansion is inside the hole, so leap up and grab it. What are you waiting for?
E13  meditation vista

> TORVUS BOG

Look for the moving platform in the distance. You'll need to time a Screw Attack jump so you land on the platform, which will then take you to the Energy Tank. There isn't much strategy for this one—it's mostly a combination of timing and luck.

P7  putrid alcove

> DARK TORVUS BOG

Go from Dark Forgotten Bridge to Putrid Alcove and shoot the Dark Phlogus. Once it is stunned, leap into the water and drop a Power Bomb next to the cracked wall. It will explode and spit out a Power Bomb Expansion.

M44  plaza access

> TORVUS BOG

Use Bomb Jumps to move up and around the red tunnel. You'll need to access and use two Bomb Slots—one will turn the blue flooring so you can pass through the tunnel. Once that's done, use a Bomb Jump to reach the tunnel on top of the second piece of flooring. Roll down the tunnel and boost for the expansion.

E14  torvus plaza

> TORVUS BOG

Use the half-pipe to reach a Spider Ball Track, then follow it to a log. Roll down the log and grab another track, then follow it to a second log. Grab more tracks (watch out for the'scorp') until you hit a third log. Keep following the track until you reach a cannon that will shoot you to the Energy Tank. The track is a little twitchy—be patient.

P8  great bridge

> TORVUS BOG

Look for a pile of rocks in front of a red tunnel on one of the ledges. Drop a Power Bomb to clear the rocks, then roll down the tunnel and grab the expansion.

M45  undertemple

> DARK TORVUS BOG

Drop to the Main Hydrochamber in the Light World and take the portal to the Dark World—you'll have to use a Spider Ball Track behind a bunch of steel mesh. In Undertemple, use the Screw Attack to Wall Jump up to an expansion. As an homage to the Super NES classic Super Metroid, it's still hard as heck to perform a Wall Jump. Keep with it—you'll get it eventually.

M46  transit tunnel south

> TORVUS BOG

Activate the bottom Bomb Slot, then jump up so you're over a yellow dot. Double-Bomb-Jump up and right, then go to the other Bomb Slot and use it. Make your way to the upper path and head right until you see the last Bomb Slot. Use Bomb Jumps and the current to reach the Missile Expansion.

M47  training chamber

> TORVUS BOG

Defeat the dark Boggs and locate the Spider Ball Track in the water. Roll up it and boost to another, then roll along until you reach a whole mess of tracks. Fall from there to the statue and activate the Bomb Slot to find some missiles.

M48  sanctuary map station

> SANCTUARY FORTRESS

Step into the beam of yellow light to be transported to a magical wonderworld! Actually it's just a small room. But it does have a Missile Expansion.

M49  hazing cliff

> ING HIVE

Enter Hazing Cliff via the door in Culling Chamber. Blast the Dark Diligence Drones with a charged Light Beam and grab the expansion.
Here is a list of all the logbook entries needed to get 100% in your logbook (organized alphabetically). The page number tells you where in the walk-through you will have the first opportunity to add the entry to your logbook. Also, if you're looking for strategy for a tough enemy, find the enemy on the list and turn to that page in the walk-through.

The Metroid Prime 2 Echoes experience goes far beyond purging Ing from Aether. You can unlock many features by pushing Samus in the single-player mission, while your own limits will be tested in multiplayer sessions. Gear up and head out with our tips.
Metroid Prime 2: Echoes

Multiplayer

Samus vs. Samus vs. Samus vs. Samus... that's a recipe for destruction! Get your friends together and start blasting away in one of the most creative multiplayer experiences to date.

Echoes contains two different multiplayer modes—Deathmatch and Bounty. In Deathmatch, you and your mates slug it out to see who can record the most kills in the time allotted. In Bounty, you slay your enemies to collect coins, and she who finishes with the most coins wins.

Default Upgrades

You can find different weapons in multiplayer, but everyone starts with the same basic upgrades. This section shows you what you'll have (and what you'll be up against) when you take up arms against your friends.

Deathmatch

- Dark Visor: Everyone gets a Dark Visor in addition to the Combat Visor. There aren't any invisible platforms in multiplayer, but you can use the device to see opponents through walls or to spot an invisible enemy.

Bounty

- Grapple Beam: Your Grapple Beam is a good defensive weapon. You can swing and fire at the same time, which makes it possible to unleash pain on enemies from above. Furthermore, players swinging on a grapple point are difficult to hit. Multiple players can swing from one grapple point!

Boost Ball

- The Boost Ball is both an offensive and defensive juggernaut, and perhaps the upgrade you'll use more than any other in Multiplayer mode. Offensively, you can use it to ram opponents and cause a small amount of damage. If you're on the other end of an opponent's lock, you can fire up the Boost Ball and escape from danger.

Morph Ball Bomb

- Morph Ball Bombs behave a little differently in multiplayer games. If you drop a bomb away from a crowd, it will detonate with the normal delay—but if you drop it on an opponent, it will explode immediately. Combining bombs with the Boost Ball is an effective strategy; ram into someone, then drop a bomb or two while you're at it. The poor victim won't know what hit him.
additional upgrades

In addition to the default abilities, you can grab a host of other items on the battlefield. Most of the following are random in terms of where and when they appear, but they all behave the same as they do in single-player mode.

upgrades out of the box

The black-and-yellow boxes hold either a Light Beam, a Dark Beam, an Annihilator Beam or a Power Bomb. If you already have a certain beam and it appears again, you can pick it up to replenish your ammo (each pickup, except Power Bombs', contains 50 units of ammunition).

> LIGHT BEAM

The Light Beam isn’t the most powerful weapon around, but it is one of the fastest. The charged beam also fires a blast of energy that’s good for hitting enemies in a crowd. It will sometimes light a fuse on fire, causing her to leak energy.

> DARK BEAM

The Dark Beam is slow. Really slow. If you’re using it, try to get close to your enemies—they can usually avoid the shot at any range. A charged Dark Beam shot (which freezes your enemy in sludge) followed by missiles is a great way to drain a foe’s energy. If you’re on the receiving end of a shot of sludge, tap B to break free. If you’re in Morph Ball form, drop a couple of bombs.

> ANNihilATOR BEAM

The best beam weapon in single-player games is also your best friend in multiplayer combat. The charged shots are powerful, but not as useful as the single shots—which follow your target around the arena.

> POWER BOMB

The Power Bomb can drain the life from your pals in a single hit. As long as they’re standing in the blast radius, they’ll lose energy at a tremendous rate. You can sometimes grab Power Bombs from the corpses of defeated enemies.

stand-alone upgrades

> MISSILES

Missiles are scattered around the arena, and each one gives you five units of ammo. They do 20 points of damage and track the other players for long distances, making them very useful.

> ENERGY

Energy is scattered all over the place, and comes in different amounts. If you want to be mean (and we know you do), collect it while you’re at full health so your opponents can’t recharge.

> SUPER MISSILES

Super Missiles are rare, and for good reason. They do much more damage than regular missiles (two will finish off all foes in no time) and are easy to fire. There’s no need to charge a Super Missile: simply aim and fire with the Y Button. They are also timed, so don’t waste precious moments. Note that you can’t use regular missiles until the Super Missile wears off.

hologram powers

Each level contains a pair of question-mark-shaped holograms. When you run through one, you’ll earn one of the temporary powers listed below. After a player uses the hologram, it will disappear for a short amount of time.

> UNLIMITED BEAM AMMO

This power gives you unlimited ammo for any beam weapon. If you don’t have a beam weapon, it will apply to any you pick up while the power is active.

> UNLIMITED MISSILE AMMO

Missiles fire at a pretty slow clip, so if you get this power-up, shoot fast. You can usually get off about 15 missiles before it goes away.

> INVULNERABILITY

Invulnerability does just what it promises—it prevents you from being damaged. Get close to your opponents and fire away while you can.

> INVISIBILITY

Opponents using the Combat Visor won’t be able to see you while you’re invisible, but those using the Dark Visor will. When you’re invisible, however, your Arm Cannon will appear in faded blue on your portion of the screen—a hint to foes who sneak peaks. Switch to the Dark Visor with its gray-toned screen—you’ll be far harder to see.

> MASSIVE DAMAGE

You can take down enemies in just a few seconds with the Massive Damage power. Hit ‘em with everything you’ve got.

> DEATH BALL

The Death Ball is a double-edged sword. While you have the power, anyone that you touch will take major damage. On the other hand, you’ll be stuck in Morph Ball form until the power wears off and you’ll be unable to use the Boost Ball. Remember that you’re not invincible while rolling around in the Death Ball.

> HACKER MODE

While in Hacker mode, you can scan opponents and cause their energy to start draining away. It also makes it tough for your enemy to see what’s going on, since static interference will fill her visor view. Until you hack an opponent, you won’t be able to use the Morph Ball or any of your weapons.
advanced multiplayer strategies

We'll give you specific tips for each multiplayer arena in a moment, but first you should learn a few strategies that will help you in any arena. The following tactics apply anywhere, anytime, anywhere. Yeehaw!

> LOCK ON

Lock on to an opponent, and don't let go. You can keep a lock through walls and while running, letting you trail your opponents through many different scenarios. If someone is locked on to you, you can break the lock by employing the Boost Ball.

> BEWARE OF KINETIC ORB CANNONS

Be careful with those cannons! If you are near a cannon while it's firing another player—or if that player hits you—you'll be destroyed in a single hit. It's also possible to get fired out of a cannon, and run into a player who's being fired from another cannon. It doesn't happen very often and it's hard to avoid when it does, so we suggest laughing at your mutual idiocy and moving on.

> DEALING WITH DEATH

Keep an eye out for opponents who are near death. When they expire, they will often drop ammo or upgrades (and coins aplenty if you're playing in Bounty mode). If you're the unfortunate victim, you'll have a couple of seconds of invulnerability when you reappear—a good way to foil spawn-point campers.

> USE THE RADAR

Don't just look for your opponents through the visors—keep an eye on your radar, too. (Note that you have no radar while in Morph Ball form.) Also look for orange on-screen arrows that point in the direction of nearby foes.

> CONSERVE AMMO

If you are charging a shot with the Dark, Light or Annihilator Beam and you lose the chance to attack, don't fire off the beam and waste the ammo. Instead, switch to another weapon with the C Stick.

bounty mode strategies

Bounty mode has a few tricks of its own. Since your score is determined by coins instead of kills, the lead will change many times and the last few seconds will always be a nail-biting affair.

> GO FOR THE BIG HITS

The stronger your attack, the more coins you'll get from your opponents. Don't hit them with a few shots from the Power Beam; instead, use a charged version of the weapon or switch to a more powerful beam.

> STASH COINS

If you've collected a large number of coins and time is running out, find a hiding place and try to avoid conflict. (Yes, it's cowardly, but what of it?) To protect your interest when you're near death, keep an eye out for areas where you can fall to your doom. If a foe is closing in, leap off the edge and go out on your own terms. You won't get the coins back, but at least no one else will pick them up.

> CHARGE BEAM? CHA-CHING!

The Charge Beam can suck up coins like a vacuum. The suction isn't nearly as effective as in single-player mode, so you'll need to get close to pick up the loot. You can also grab coins by simply running over them.
setting up a multiplayer match

Before you start a battle, you must decide on the terms. Though it’s good, theoretically, for all participants to agree, in reality Player One makes most of the choices. The others can like it or lump it. Try to play nice.

LIMITS AND CONTROLS

In Deathmatch mode, you can choose to end a match after a certain number of kills, a certain amount of time, or a combination of the two. In Bounty mode, you can establish your win condition as coins, time or both. Before you choose a mode, however, each player should customize his controls—turning Y-axis invasion and rumble function on or off—by pushing the Y Button at the multiplayer start up screen.

MUSIC

Turn on the tunes and go to town! You can choose only one piece of music at the beginning, but you’ll unlock more as you advance through the single-player version of the game. Consult page 129 for all the info on unlocking music, as well as additional multiplayer arenas.

sidehopper station

Sidehopper is an outer-space amalgamation of Spider Ball Tracks, Morph Ball tunnels and Kinetic Orb Cannons. Oh, and did we mention that you can plummet off the side and fall to your doom?

SPIDER BALL TRACKS

On the second floor of the room with the grapple point, you’ll find two tunnels that lead to a Spider Ball Track where you can find missiles or just hang out. The passages will be closed in Bounty mode.

TUNNEL VISION

The two inner cannons will launch you into tunnels in the upper part of the station. The floor is destructible, so watch out for attackers from below. If you jump up through the hole in the ceiling, you’ll have a nice perch from which to see all the action or just fire each time someone runs by.

UP ON THE ROOFTOPS

If you get into the upper tunnels and jump through the hole in the ceiling to an even-higher walkway, you can make your way to a small black platform that usually contains affinity power-ups. Most players don’t visit the platform often—it’s pretty out of the way—so it’s a good spot to take a quick breather.

ON THE VERGE

The two cannons on the outside decks will shoot you from one side of the station to the other. While you’re running around out there, be aware of the edge. If you get too close, you might fall off and plummet through space and time until you run out of air or burn up in a star. Actually, you’ll just respawn in a couple of seconds, but it’s still no fun.
spider complex

The action in this arena centers around the giant bronze orb in the middle of the complex. Although the Spider Ball is fun, it makes you an easy target—use it carefully.

> THE MASSIVE ORB

All of the Kinetic Orb Cannons will launch you onto the orb in the middle of the arena. If you press and hold R as you fly out of a cannon, you'll attach to the orb and be able to roll around like crazy.

fly the friendly skies

While you're on the orb, press and hold the B button to build up your boost, then release it to go flying. You can land in nooks scattered around the orb, and they all contain helpful power-ups. You can also roll to the hologram on top of the orb to gain one of the random powers—they're temporary, but they can tip the balance in your favor.

> LEAP AND ROLL

To get back on the orb from a nook, leap off the ledge then press X as soon as you touch the orb. When you start to enter Morph Ball form, press and hold the R button. If you time it right, you'll go from the air to the orb and be able to roll away without a care in the world... except that other Samus right behind you.

shooting gallery

If you long for a King of the Hill mode, you can make your own in Shooting Gallery—it usually becomes a matter of one player taking the turret and everyone else trying to dislodge her. Shooting Gallery is perfectly suited for four-player fun.

> WE HATE THE TURRET!

So somebody's in the turret blasting you to smithereens? You have a couple of options: You can try boosting up the ramps and activating the Bomb Shot behind the turret—which will cause it to explode—or you can hit and run from below. If you take the latter course of action, the Annihilator Beam and Super Missile are your best bets.

> WE LOVE THE TURRET!

Once you're in the turret, you can pretty much rule the roost. It has a slow rate of fire, but the shots do a ton of damage and their range is great. Your foes can swarm up the side ramps to reach you, so pick 'em off as they come.

> GRATE STRATEGY

The room with the turret also contains poison water that's covered by a metal grating. The grating can be destroyed easily, so watch your step while running amok. If you're in the turret, blast the grating to send a friend into the water, which will sap energy at a rapid pace.
crossfire chaos

If you’re looking for some wide-open spaces to reduce to rubble, Crossfire Chaos is for you. No muss, no fuss, no tunnels or tracks or grapple points to contend with—just Super Missiles and a whole lot of fraggin’. Plus, you can destroy some walls to reach hologram points, which is both a fun and distracting pastime.

pipeline

Not to be confused with the beach-party song of the same name, the Pipeline arena is a watery environment that is made all the more fun if you boost through the narrow tunnels. See page 128 for details on unlocking Pipeline.

You’ll find a Super Missile hidden on a high ledge—fight your way to it. You can also use the Gravity Boost to skim across the ceiling. If someone gets the Death Ball, jump out of reach in the tall underwater platform.

spires

The Spires arena consists of two separate platforms that are connected by a series of Kinetic Orb Cannons. Since you’re floating in the sky, it’s possible to fall off the edge—be careful.

Wait for the Super Missile to appear between the rings before you go flying through. Other fun activities include blasting your friends with the Kinetic Orb Cannon and firing missiles at them from the opposite platform.

end-of-battle stats

After a match concludes, both sides must lay down their arms and count up the cost of battle. Your total kills will be listed, as well as the number of times you perished. In Bounty mode, you’ll also see how many coins you collected. The winner should immediately start ridiculing the other players’ pathetic gameplay skills (and perhaps throw in a comment or two about their questionable parentage), while the losers should mutter quietly about the winner’s unsportsmanlike camping practices.
Unlockables

As if reading all of the fantastically witty musings in this guide weren't reward enough, you can also unlock a bevy of goodies by completing tasks in the single-player game. We'll leave it up to you to decide which is more fun.

Art Galleries

The art galleries feature some really wicked concept art. You can unlock most of it by completing different portions of the logbook, but you'll have to beat the game in Hard mode to open the Storyboard Gallery.

Unlockable Galleries

Promotional Gallery 40% of logbook scans
Character Gallery 60% of logbook scans
Creature Gallery 80% of logbook scans
Boss Gallery 100% of logbook scans
Rough Sketch Gallery Complete the game in Normal mode
Storyboard Gallery Complete the game in Hard mode

Cinemas

If you track down and collect 75% of the items in the game, you'll get to see Samus outside of her suit after you beat the final boss. (And no, we won't show you what she looks like in the screenshot—that would ruin the whole thing!) If you get 100% of the items, you'll unlock a special ending that features none other than Dark Samus.

Unlockable Cinemas

Samus Body Suit Cinema 75% of items found
Dark Samus Ending 100% of items found

Hard Mode

If you beat the game once, you'll unlock Hard mode. As the name implies, it's hard. Quite hard. No doubt, this is the mode that will push an elite legion of Metroid fans to the forefront of their game—good luck with that.

Multipayer Action

In-game events trigger multiplayer unlockables, but you'll be so busy in the world of Aether that you might not even notice. At any rate, you can earn arenas and b seam soundtracks simply by saving the Luminush. Don't say they never gave you anything.
